Attention Members

Given the change in advice from State and Federal Authorities over the past few days the Executive of PCASA has been actively looking at options in regard to the holding of the State Meetings at the end of the month and what will happen with the State ODE, and other large events.

As you would all appreciate no single person on the Executive Committee or from the Office can unilaterally make a decision on how the meetings/events should or should not proceed. Added to that all of the Executive Committee are all volunteers and have their own jobs and responsibilities that they have to attend to as well. They are all separated geographically throughout the state and not able to just pop into the board room and vote on the matter at a minutes notice.

While this may be frustrating for you at the moment we do ask for your patience and we promise that the situation is being taken seriously and being acted upon.

Further information will be available to members at the earliest opportunity it is available.

Clubs and Zones should closely monitor the relevant State and Federal Authorities and incorporate information from them in their usual risk assessments for normal pony club activities and events, Equestrian activities have a greater social distance involved than most other sports and need to incorporate authorities advice for their area.

On behalf of the PCASA Executive,

Ann Olsen

PCASA State President
